

ALLIES WAITING TO GET ORDERS

Foreign Troops Have Not Yet Occupied Heart of Peking.

ROUT ARMY OF BOXERS

Germany Said to be Gathering a Powerful Army For Use in China.

KILLED ALL THE PRISONERS

Washington, Aug. 25.—[Special Telegram]—It is reported at the war department that General Chaffee has advised that the American troops be withdrawn as soon as all American citizens have been rescued. He says the delayed discord between the allies at Peking is growing.

Three German transports arrived at Taku today with troops and started at once for Peking.

Shanghai, Aug. 25.—[Special Cablegram]—The situation here is unchanged. No communication with the Chinese government is possible.

The future movements of the allied forces depend upon instructions arrived from the home governments.

The allied commanders have not yet come to any agreement as to the final occupation of the palace, where a great amount of treasure is supposed to exist.

Peace At Hand In China.

London, Aug. 25.—[Special Telegram]—Advices from Peking, Shanghai, Hongkong and other points indicate that there are good grounds for President McKinley's belief that peace is at hand in China. The allies have divided the capital into four parts, arranged for police supervision for each, and established a provincial government, pending instructions from the powers or the appearance of the Chinese ruler.

Powerful German Army.

London, Aug. 25.—The report telegraphed from Washington today that Germany is preparing to make San Francisco a base of supplies, with a view to sending out a very powerful army to China, has attracted considerable attention. I have made inquiries on the subject in shipping circles and find that German orders for stores and provisions are sufficiently extensive to lend probability to this rumor.

It certainly would not surprise the diplomatic authorities here if the German force should eventually reach a total of 40,000 men.

Army of Boxers Routed.

Tien Tsai, Aug. 25.—[Special Cablegram]—A force made up of English, Americans and Japanese attacked and routed an army of boxers west of here on Aug. 20, killing three hundred.

It now appears that the reason the British troops entered Peking so easily was because the whole garrison concentrated to repel the American attack.

The Chinese admit the loss of three thousand men during the siege of the legations.

Body of Von Ketteler Buried.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—A Peking dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger says the body of Baron von Ketteler, the German minister who was killed by the Chinese, has been found in a cemetery near the place where he was assassinated. It was found on examination that his death was caused by a bullet in the head. The body was reinterred in a Christian cemetery today.

Dr. Bachmann of Shanghai asserts in the Gegenwart that Emperor Kwang Hsu suffers from cancer of the throat, and that he is unable to reign. The same view is taken by Dr. Sheng Lian Feng, both of whom have examined the Emperor.

Killed all of the Prisoners.

A number of papers publish letters from German soldiers now in China. One of these epistles, appearing in an Elberfeld journal, says that the German troops during the fights at Tien-Tsai killed all the Chinese prisoners, but that the Russians murdered everybody, the women and children being bayoneted.

The Crefeld Zeitung has a letter saying that the Russians and Japanese assassinate all Chinese whom they encounter.

Murder and Mutilation.

All the letters agree that the Chinese horribly murder and mutilate all the wounded and captured allied troops.

The Grand Duke of Hesse, in a series of articles in the National Zeitung, advocates the doing away with "interest speeches" in China, the abolition of Chinese international duties, the strengthening of the central government under the joint supervision of the powers, and a sound reorganization of Chinese finance, insisting that China shall open every port in the interior.

STATUE OF APOLLO IS FOUND

Fifth Century, B. C., and Is Regarded as a Great Discovery

Athens, Aug. 25.—A magnificent marble statue of Apollo, life size, has been found in this vicinity. Its workmanship is of the Fifth century, B. C., and it is believed to be the first in existence. Archaeologists are delighted at this important discovery.

Free High School Manual

Madison, Wis., Aug. 25.—Superintendent Harvey has issued a free high school manual which contains a syllabus of the curriculum of the work done in the entire 221 free high schools of the state. The manual also contains a list of reference books for work in high schools. The pamphlet is now being sent out to all the schools of the state and to all persons making a written request for them.

BRYAN IS HOARSE BUT FEELS GOOD

Arrives Home Today and Feels That His Kansas Trip Was a Huge Success.

Lincoln, Aug. 25.—[Special Telegram]—Bryan arrived at Lincoln at nine o'clock this morning from his Kansas trip, and at 1:35 he left for South Omaha, where he speaks tonight at a picnic. He is exceedingly hoarse, but feels that his tour has been a huge success. Pickpockets on the train were ousted before he reached Beatrice last night. Two jumped while the train was running forty miles an hour.

CHAIRMAN HANNA IS RAISING FUNDS

Philadelphia, Aug. 25.—[Special Telegram]—Senator Hanna came here this morning for a conference with the local advisory committee and announced that the national committee expected Philadelphia to raise six hundred thousand dollars for the national campaign fund. The money was promised.

SPOONER'S SPEECH ON PORTO RICO

How Three Little Pills Helped Him to Deliver That Masterful Address on the Bill.

Washington, August 25.—Senator Spooner was advertised for a speech on the Porto Rico bill. It was to be a constitutional argument, a masterly defense of the power of the congress to do what the republican majority wanted to do. Everyone knew that Spooner, the little giant from Wisconsin, was just the man for the task.

He is eloquent, learned, courageous, powerful. But Spooner was in poor health. It was feared he might not be able to deliver his speech—for a speech by Spooner is no parlor game, no polite and platitudinous perusal of a neatly typewritten sheet.

It is something hot from the heart and brain, impromptu, glowing, often interrupted—a debate rather than a declamation, a battle instead of a dress parade. For a Spooner speech Spooner needed to be himself; but the morning of the appointed day he was ill.

"Doctor," said he to Magruder, M. D., "give me something to brace me up."

"What time do you come on?"

"Well, Senator Bate is first—he'll take an hour or more; then comes Depew—he'll need forty minutes, no less, no more, for all his speeches are nicely rehearsed before a mirror, and they come through on schedule time like a New York Central train. Then I come in; oh, I forgot Senator Cullom has a few minutes after Depew."

"Here are three pills," said Dr. Magruder: "take one of them for Bate, one of them for Cullom—you needn't take one for Cullom—and you take the third when you are about half way through."

Senator Spooner followed the doctor's directions. When he went into the senate chamber he felt so badly he could hardly hold his head up. The Bate pill braced him up a bit. The Depew pill made him feel like a new man. He had not been on his feet thirty minutes till he knew he was all right.

He was striking fire; brain and gall and tongue were all working well together. Bacon interrupted politely, and was led away by his merciful friends. Tillman jumped in savagely, and was picked up by his seconds, and restored with much difficulty.

The third pill, swallowed with a bit of senatorial apoplexy, kept the Wisconsin man at full steam for two hours and a half. It was a thundering, a tremendous speech—the greatest constitutional argument heard in the senate chamber since the days of Webster and Hayne.

"Well how did the medicine work?" asked Mr. Magruder next day.

"Splendid, splendid!" replied Senator Spooner. "Doctor permit me to congratulate you. You have proved yourself to be one of the pillars of the constitution."

WILL NOT HELP TO WAR ON CHINA

McKinley Asks Powers of Europe to Define Their Attitude.

TO WITHDRAW TROOPS

The Other Allies Blundered in Attacking the Inner City of Peking.

PROPOSE JOINT CONFERENCE

Washington, D. C. Aug. 25.—While the conditions in China seem to indicate that Russia, at least, is determined to make war upon China, in which the other European nations may be drawn, the United States will not participate, and in the event of war will withdraw General Chaffee and the troops under his command forthwith.

If the powers decide that it shall be war, the United States government will enter a protest of the most vigorous character, which of itself will cause those who are thirsting for war to pause.

Hope of a Peaceful Solution.

If this protest is not heeded, the United States will not go so far as to resort to armed intervention for the preservation of the territorial integrity of China, but will retire and leave the field to the warring nations.

Great hopes of a peaceful solution of the complicated situation in China is entertained here, and it is believed Germany, whose Emperor has been anxious for war, will view the situation in the same light as the United States.

McKinley Sounds the Powers

With a view to ascertaining the position of the European nations and Japan, the President has directed the American ministers at the various capitals to sound the governments to which they are accredited as to their course in China. The attitude of the powers determines the policy of this government. If any of the powers decide that they will make war upon China, as already indicated, the United States will withdraw, but if the powers decide upon a peaceful solution the United States forces will remain there until the entire Chinese problem is solved.

Conference of Powers Necessary

At the cabinet meeting today it was decided that the Chinese question has reached the point where a conference of the powers is necessary, and in connection with the American ministers abroad sounding the powers they will probably intimate that it will be agreeable to the United States to appoint a commission to confer, for the purpose of settling the Chinese troubles.

This is the commission which was referred to in these dispatches some days ago, and which the president has had under consideration for some time. The questions which will come before this commission, if the critical situation assumes a more peaceful phase, will be as to who is the government in China, what indemnity shall be exacted, how it shall be collected, and other questions which will naturally arise.

INDIANS GHOST DANCE

Cheyenne Chief Porcupine Arrested and Placed in Guardhouse to Prevent Trouble.

Fort Yates, N. D., Aug. 25.—Porcupine, an old Cheyenne chief, who originated the dances of 1900, started out again with seven followers, ghost dancing. He was caught and put in the guardhouse. Three hundred and eighty Indians have petitioned the agent at Fort Yates to ask Secretary Hitchcock to take Porcupine to some distant part of the country, where he will not be so troublesome.

ITALIAN ASSASSIN IS AFTER BRYAN

Police in Omaha Busy Getting at the Bottom of a Rumor to That Effect.

Omaha, Aug. 25.—[Special Telegram]—The police are scouring the city for a machinist, name unknown, who is alleged to have said that a fellow employee had been deputized by an Italian anarchist to kill Bryan upon the latter's appearance at Syndicate Park, at South Omaha, tonight. Extra precautions will be taken to protect Bryan.

MCKINLEY WILL NOT BE IN CHICAGO

A Decisive Announcement to That Effect From Washington.

WELCOME TO VETERANS

Spanish Duke D'Arcos and Wife Arrives and are Escorted to Auditorium Annex.

OLDEST GRAND ARMY VETERAN

Washington, Aug. 25.—[Special Telegram]—An official announcement is made at the White House, that owing to continued pressure of public business, the president will be unable to attend the Grand Army encampment at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Chicago will don the raiment of a host tonight. Though the encampment proper will open with the salute of sunset guns on Monday, the welcome to the veterans will begin with the arrival of their forefear. Many of the old soldiers arrived today and, by evening the city practically will have seen the beginning of the thirty-fourth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. The Avenue of Fame and the Court of Honor will glisten with myriads of lights and all the symbols of civil war deeds will fling their welcome to the veterans.

The arrivals today will be increased by crowds tomorrow and Monday it is expected that 50,000 veterans and 250,000 other visitors have arrived.

President May Not Come.

It was said yesterday that confidential advisers had been received at the Citizens committee headquarters that President McKinley may leave Washington for Chicago on Sunday night. Executive Director Harper said he had received no confirmation of the rumor. General John C. Black, chairman of the committee on invitations, had received no word from Mr. McKinley later than Thursday, when it was announced that the President's intended participation in the encampment probably would have to be abandoned on account of the stress of foreign affairs.

Duke D'Arcos Arrives

The Spanish Minister, the Duke d'Arcos, and his wife, arrived this morning over the Lake Shore road at 11:50 o'clock. The Acting Spanish Consul in Chicago, Berthold Singer, with a party of Spanish citizens, escorted the duke and his wife from the Rock Island depot to their quarters at the Auditorium Annex.

Dedication of the Coliseum.

The new Coliseum, Wabash avenue and Fifteenth street, in which all the Grand Army auxiliary organizations, joint camp fires and reunions will be held, will be dedicated this evening at 8 o'clock. The services will precede the first of a series of "war concerts" to run through the encampment. Mayor Harrison and Colonel Frank O. Lowden will deliver the dedicatory addresses.

Simultaneously with the dedication of the Coliseum, the fireworks display on the lake front under the direction of the Citizens' committee will be given an initial production.

Tomorrow evening the religious services arranged for veterans and visitors by Bishop Samuel Fellows will take place in the Coliseum. Addresses will be made by Bishop Fellows, Commander-in-Chief Shaw, the Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, Rabbi Hirsch, and Rev. H. W. Thomas.

Oldest Grand Army Veteran.

William Taylor of La Crosse, Wis., is the claimant for the honor of being the oldest Grand Army veteran at the encampment next week. He is 95 years old and has served in three wars. The Black Hawk war gave him his first baptism of water and he was a man of family when he enlisted in the Mexican war. He was beyond the age limit when the civil war occurred, but instead of claiming that as an exemption he enlisted and fought through the four years of strife. Within five years of the century mark, he is mentally and physically alert and will march at the head of the Wisconsin division next Tuesday. He will be the guest of W. P. Powers of George H. Thomas post during the coming week.

SCORES ARE KILLED IN A STORM AT NOME

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 25.—A terrific storm raged at Nome on Aug. 7. It wrought disaster along the water front, and as a result the beach is lined with wreckage and stranded vessels of all descriptions. The loss of life was enormous but no accurate figures can be given. According to a water front man, out of sixty-eight steam launches only five remained afloat, and of seventy-two cargoes but seven are riding the sea, the others having either sunk or drifted ashore.

Twenty dead bodies were washed ashore and taken to the morgue for identification. Among them was the body of J. W. Beatty of Alameda, Cal. Five dead bodies were washed ashore at Topkup, three miles north of Nome, the mouth of Nome River, and eight in front of Nome Camp, three twelve miles below Bluff City and two below Topkup.

FITZ IN THE SECOND ROUND.

Coney Island, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Bob Fitzsimmons knocked out Tom Sharkey after two minutes and six seconds of fighting in the second round. A slashing left hook to the point of the jaw, very similar to the blow with which Fitz defeated Ruhlman just two weeks ago, toppled over the brawny sailor and while Referee Charley White tolled off the seconds until ten was reached Sharkey tried in vain to rise. This blow came shortly after Sharkey had taken the count from a fusillade of blows delivered to his jaw. From the beginning of the round the Cornishman had gained an advantage and was quick to force it to the defeat of his opponent. Thus did he wipe out the decision rendered against him by questionable means at San Francisco four years ago. But, as in the Ruhlman fight, it was Fitzsimmons who appeared on the point of losing in the first round. Sharkey surprised the 6,000 spectators, who about two-thirds, filled the big clubhouse, by the manner in which he blocked and ducked many of Fitz' vicious blows. He went forward in his usual slugging manner and just before the bell sounded dropped the Cornishman with a left swing to the jaw. Fitz rolled clear over on his back, and while he was getting himself in position to rise the gong sounded, denoting the end of the round. Had Sharkey been able to follow up that advantage without a minute's rest he might have won, but even that is doubtful, for nowhere does generalship show more than in impending defeat. The purse of $25,000 will be divided equally between the fighters. Estimated receipts, $35,000.

BOERS THREATEN RAILWAY LINES

Pretoria, Aug. 25. [Special Cablegram]—Boer commandant De Laury with a large force is threatening the stations along the Johannesburg line. He recently demanded the surrender of the British garrison but the demand was refused. Meanwhile De Wet has crossed the railroad twenty miles south of Krugersdorp toward Vaal. Some of his abandoned wagons have been captured.

London, Aug. 25. [Special Cablegram]—Roberts reports that the enemy in force opposed to Buller's advance, tried to trap the cavalry but failed. Two companies of the Liverpool regiment strayed into the Boer's lines losing ten men killed, forty-five wounded and thirty captured. Other losses and four men killed and six wounded, also six missing.

ANITA THE VICTOR AFTER A HARD FIGHT

Speedy Neenah Yacht Has Become Champion of the Inland Lakes at Geneva.

Lake Geneva, Wis., Aug. 25.—Anita, built and sailed by W. L. Davis as the entry of the Neenah Yacht club, is the proud champion of the inland lakes. She won this title yesterday after a nerve-rasping struggle with two other boats who with her had beaten off and defeated a fleet of fifteen of the fastest one-raters in the West.

Ten seconds, barely more than a boat's length, intervened between her and the other red topped flyer which captured the Geneva cup on Monday. Back of both, straining every inch of canvas and with sheets sprung from the tremendous strain they had been called upon to bear in taking desperate chances came the Henrietta, to which the Delavan people planned their faith until the very moment that the little cannon on the judge's boat told that a new champion ship had been declared. The Henrietta lost by thirty-four seconds, after falling hopelessly out of it and by superb seamanship regaining most of her loss.

By her victory the Anita won two cups—one given by the Inland Yacht association and the other offered by Commodore Edward Norton. The former belongs to her, while the latter she will have to win again before she will be the permanent possessor.

Other Names for Recruit.

From the army recruiting stations in Chicago there has been gathered a formidable addition to the slang of the day. Strictly speaking, a "shave-tail" is a "griffin" or "coyote" or "rooster," but frequently is called a "piebiter," and perhaps is known even more widely as a "ring-tailed snorter." All these are terms of reproach addressed to the "rookie," or military recruit, in the United States.

Russia's Big Cities.

The populations of the five largest cities of Russia are: St. Petersburg, 1,287,000; Moscow, 988,600; Warsaw, 614,750; Odessa, 404,650; Lodz, 314,780.

GRAND REUNION OF THE IRON BRIGADE

Heroes of Gettysburg Attract Attention in Chicago Next Week.

ORIGIN OF THE NAME

Story Told by Gen. McClellan Tells How Brigade Deserved the Cognomen.

PROGRAM FOR THE BIG EVENT

Chicago, Aug. 25.—The Iron Brigade is taking possession of Chicago, and its reunion is to be one of the greatest features of the Grand Army encampment. Charles H. McConnell, formerly of the Twenty-fourth Michigan, is president of the Chicago Iron Brigade association, and in honor of the occasion Mr. McConnell has had designed for the front of his business establishment at 84 State street the most beautiful piece of decorative work of its kind in the city.

The front of the store for two stories has been hidden with a large general design of staff and stucco, with columns and a relief top piece. In the center is a relief portrait of General Edward S. Bragg, commander of the Iron Brigade, surrounded by commemorative inscriptions, flags and battle-field insignia. This is Mr. McConnell's tribute in honor of his comrades, living and dead. Many thousands of people halted before it yesterday while the finishing touches were placed upon the mottoes. The building will be headquarters for the brigade.

Program For Reunion.

The reunion and business meeting of the Iron Brigade will be held in Grand Army Memorial Hall, the public library, at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon. The program will consist of orchestral music, a vocal quartet, instrumental solos, recitation and five minute speeches by veterans. Men, women and children of the Iron Brigade are invited to this afternoon meeting. This is the only veterans' meeting that will be permitted in Memorial Hall during the week.

The banquet of the Iron Brigade will be held in the banquet hall of the Chicago Athletic association at 6:30 o'clock on Monday evening. C. H. McConnell will be toastmaster and Bishop Fellows is to deliver the invocation. The programme has been slightly disarranged through the fact that President McKinley, who was to be one of the guests, may not be able to come. If he is not here Speaker D. B. Henderson of the national house of representatives may take his place as one of the speakers.

Origin of the Name.

At the bottom of the menu cards for the banquet is the story of the origin of the name the brigade now bears. It says:

General McClellan told General John B. Callis of Lancaster, Wis., at the Continental Hotel in Philadelphia, when his grand reception was given there, what he knew of the origin of the cognomen "Iron Brigade." Said he: "During the battle of Stone Mountain my headquarters were where I could see every move of the troops taking the gorge on the pike (National road). With my glass I saw the men fighting against great odds, when General Hooker came in great haste for some orders. I asked him what troops were these fighting on the pike? His answer was: 'General Gibbon's.' Said he: 'These are the men I told you were made of iron.' He replied: 'By the eternal, they are iron. If you had seen them at Second Bull Run as I did, you would know them to be iron.' I replied: 'Why, General Hooker, they fight equal to any troops in the world.' This remark so gladdened Hooker that he mounted his horse and dashed away without orders. After the battle I saw Hooker at the Mountain House near where the brigade fought. He sang out: 'Now, general, what do you think of the Iron Brigade? Ever since then I gave them the cognomen of Iron Brigade.'

FORM A COMBINE IN ELECTRIC ROADS

An Incorporation Which May Develop Into One of the Most Important in the State.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 25.—A company which may develop into one of the most important corporations in Wisconsin filed articles of incorporation with the Register of Deeds today. It is known as the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company.

The incorporators of the new concern are Henry C. Payne, vice president of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company; John I. Beggs, general manager of the same company; and Charles F. Pfister and Frank G. Bigelow, the two best known capitalists in the city, who are also officers of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company.

The purpose of the new company, it is claimed, is to consolidate as far as possible the electric power business of the state. It will not only operate street railways but light and power plants and it is significant that, according to its articles of incorporation, it is authorized to operate roads by power other than electricity.

George Royden.

Beloit, Wis., Aug. 25.—George Royden, aged 80 years, a pioneer resident of this locality, died at Rockton yesterday.

INCREASE LESS THAN 200 ACRES

Tobacco Statistics for Rock County
Gathered by the Assessors—Total of 8,562 Acres.

We are able to present the first statistics of the 1900 tobacco crop gathered from the assessors' returns made to the county clerk and is published in comparison with the figures taken a year ago:

Towns, Cities and Villages.	Acres 1900	Acres 1899	Pounds 1899
Avon	135	41	219,850
Bellevue	235	240	181,735
Bradford	897	822	382,000
Center	897	812	118,400
Clinton	751	974	104,200
Fulton	751	974	98,700
Harmony	687	762	107,000
Janesville	680	820	911,500
Johnstown	145	123	122,100
La Prairie	630	597	173,200
Lima	19	13	17,300
Maple	540	470	326,700
Milton	820	271	34,900
Newark	802	219	23,900
Plymouth	574	484	63,800
Porter	545	787	62,400
Rock	512	505	100,800
Spring Valley	620	307	67,000
Turtle	78	59	7,900
Union	285	248	282,000
Village of Clinton	7	4	700
City of Janesville	217	190	30,000
City of Beloit	346	104	21,700
City of Janesville	346	361	374,000
Total	8,562	8,374	1,026,644

It will be noted that the increase in acreage falls considerably short of what was anticipated being less than 200 for the whole county. It was so generally believed that the returns would show at least a 500 acre increase, that most people will suspect that there is something wrong in the figures. For instance a year ago the town of Fulton was the banner growing town in the county reporting 975 acres of tobacco. This season the assessor finds but 775 acres. No one can scarcely believe there has been a decline in the area of land in this town devoted to this crop. The same discrepancy will be noticed in the figures from the town of Porter another large producing township. Neither of these towns are likely to grow less tobacco in 1900 than a year ago while the tendency everywhere is rather to increase the acreage. The Reporter is inclined rather to the opinion that the assessors have done their work of gathering statistics too careless. For this reason the table is a disappointment, yet is the only method of getting even approximately near the tobacco statistics of our county. The census figures taken the same month may clear up some of these variations.—Edgerton Tobacco Reporter.

Tobacco Harvest Now Going On.
The harvest of the new crop is now well under way in all the growing sections, though heavy storms during the week have delayed the work in some localities. Help is reported scarce in certain sections, but the harvest is being pushed with all the vigor possible. The weather so far has been rather critical for the satisfactory curing of the shedded tobacco and the growers have to guard against both burn and pole rot.

Some terrifically heavy storms have visited some portions of the tobacco sections, accompanied by hail in a few localities, inflicting serious damage to the standing crop. Reports reach us that quite a large portion of the northern Dace county section, from Arlington to Deforest and several miles in width has been injured. Thursday morning another hail storm covered a good deal of tobacco territory about Janesville and the tobacco in the Orfordville section is also badly hailed.—Edgerton Reporter.

September McClure's.
The September number of McClure's Magazine will contain an elaborately illustrated article by Samuel Hopkins Adams on "The Training of Lions, Tigers, and Other Great Cats." The drawings, by Charles R. Knight, of the American Museum of Natural History, because of the artist's technical skill and scientific knowledge, are doubtless the most startling and life like portraits of lions that have appeared in any magazine for some time. The author relates several capital anecdotes of hair-breadth escapes of trainers from death. Hon. George S. Boutwell, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, will write in the September McClure's of "An Historic Sale of the United States Bonds in England." The article gives the text of the official correspondence of our government with the Bank of England relating to a somewhat singular episode in the affairs of the Treasury Department.

be the title of Frank H. Spearman's railroad story in the September McClure's. Mr. Spearman has already, in the August issue, written "Conductor Pat Francis," later he will tell stories about the switchman, the yard-master and so on; in the September number he will relate the daring adventure of a young and inexperienced "wiper" in the face of great danger.

"A Bill from Tiffany's" will be the subject of the second of the "True Stories from the Under-World," by Josiah Flint and Francis Walton, in McClure's for September. The hero is a New York detective, and the action centers round a metropolitan diamond robbery. The story shows how professional thieves live and how they treat each other. The illustrations will be from studies of types in the Rogue's Gallery.

Miss Edith Wyatt will contribute to McClure's for September a story of contemporary Chicago life, of no little satirical force. In "Richard Elliot" she has revealed in a ridiculous light the character of an affected refined example of literary nincompoop; the picture of the German family of Hoffmanns is intensely realistic and typical of Chicago. The story will be illustrated by Frederic R. Gruger. S. S. McClure Co., 141 155 East 25th St., New York.

John Monogue is having a new granary built.

H. H. Hayward is confined to the house by an attack of cholera morbus.

A. J. McComb of Ft. Atkinson will operate the creamery at the corners for a time.

Chinese as Waiters.

In the foreign hotels which abound in all the treaty ports—Hong-Kong, Shanghai, etc.—the Chinaman, as a waiter, is perfect. He wears a loose white robe, immaculately clean; milk-white stockings, with black satin slippers; a shiny black pigtail divides his back from neck to heels. He moves about as silently as a cat. His duties once having been explained to him, he never forgets. (He is reliable.

MODOC INDIANS HAVE PICNIC

Survivors of the Old Tribe Meet Their Chief at Lake Koshkonong.

Lake Koshkonong, Aug. 25.—An unusual and interesting event of the week was the picnic held at Charlie Bluff by the remnants of the old Rock River tribe of Modoc Indians. The members of this once large tribe are scattered all over the United States and many of them with their families were in attendance. The chief was there and all had a day of enjoyment.

Ladies' Home Journal

"Fashion Number" is a fitting designation of the September Ladies' Home Journal, which will gladden womanhood with its great showing of fall and winter modes. The ten fashion articles are by the highest authorities on feminine attire, and the text is effectively illustrated. But the fashion writers and artists have by no means monopolized the September Journal. Renee Buche contributes "One Hundred Years in the Whitehouse," which in a most interesting way recalls the notable occurrences in the Executive Mansion during its first century. In the "Romances of Some Southern Homes" is reflected the social life of the beaux and belles of Southland in the good old days—a succession of interesting affairs of the heart. A large share of attention will be given to "The Anecdotal Side of Phillips Brooks," because of the new light it centres upon him as preacher and man. In "Josiah and I Go a Visitin'"—the second visit—"Josiah Allen's Wife" writes of their experiences in her irresistibly humorous vein. Another fiction feature, "Joey's Tobacco," is a well-told short story. "The Church Engaged My Husband, Not Me," "The Training of a Waitress," "When You Entertain or Visit," are a few of the many helpful practical articles. The pictorial features include views of California gardens, of the Yellowstone Park, and a page drawing of A. B. Frost's, "Letterers at the Railroad Station." By the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

Cleanest in America.

The Lackawanna Railroad is the cleanest railroad in America. Even though it cared little for the comfort of its passengers, which it does, it probably would burn hard coal, for the reason that it owns the most extensive anthracite coal mines in Pennsylvania, and it is cheaper for it to burn hard coal, which makes no smoke, than soft. At any rate, there is no smoke from its locomotives. It is built for the most part through the mountains where rock is the material easiest of access, and its road bed for that reason is rock ballasted. There is therefore, no dust. These two things are of unusual interest to the traveler by the line, for the reason that no other road in the United States is there stronger incentive to keep one's eyes upon the passing scene. It is said of this line truthfully that every mile is picturesque. It traverses the agricultural region of Western New York, the valley region of Central New York, the mountain region of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and every mile offers a view that is beautiful, interesting and entrancing. In point of comfort its passengers are particularly fortunate, for, in addition to there being no smoke or dust, the cars are roomy and scrupulously clean. Sleeping cars, parlor cars and dining cars offer all the conveniences and comforts of modern travel.

Spain Is Progressing.

Spain is undeniably progressing. The fine old Iberian temper is unbroken. No longer drained of her young men to maintain a colonial empire, and free from the annual expense of $100,000,000 which it was costing to retain the colonies, Spain is prospering. The government asks for a loan of $200,000,000, and the Spanish people subscribe $600,000,000. New factories are being built, even electric cable works; electric traction is being introduced in the Spanish cities, and at Madrid, such is the increased activity in business and travel, two fine new hotels are to be built at once. Every improvement known to modern hotels will be introduced. Today Spain, once more thriving, is buying heavily of machinery and sending large orders to the United States.—Financial Herald, City of Mexico.

G. T. HODGES FOR CONGRESS

Democrats Name a Candidate to Run in First District.

Whitewater, Wis., Aug. 25.—G. T. Hodges of Monroe, received the democratic nomination for member of congress from the first congressional district in the congressional convention which met here at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There was no opposition. Resolutions denouncing the republican administration, especially with reference to foreign affairs and trusts, were adopted.

Patria Is a Hoodoo, Sailors Say.

London, Aug. 25.—The ship Crystal Palace was stranded on the sunken bulk of the Patria for several hours and the mariners say the Patria is a hoodoo and must be blown up. First the Patria took fire at sea, imperilling many lives. Then it sank. It was raised and when being towed ashore sank again, twelve sailors being drowned. Sailors are a bit superstitious and doubt if it will be possible even to blow up the bulk without killing some one.

Three Dead From Heat.

Bellevue, Ill., Aug. 25.—Three deaths occurred in St. Clair county from the excessive heat. Henry Bergman, a prominent farmer near New Athens, became insane from the heat and shot himself through the head with a shotgun; Antonio Placek, a laborer at Centerville Station, died as the result of a sunstroke, and Edna E. Rowney, aged three years, of Mascoutah, succumbed after much suffering.

WISCONSIN TROOPS BREAK UP CAMP

Third Regiment and the Tenth Battalion of State Militia Get Their Pay and Go Home.

Camp Douglas Range, Wis., Aug. 25.—The sixteen companies of the Third Regiment and the Tenth Battalion were paid yesterday morning, after which they turned in their supplies from the state and cleared up the camp preparatory to leaving. In the afternoon all of the companies marched from the reservation, and took the trains for home.

There is considerable speculation concerning who will succeed Gen. Boardman as adjutant general, in the event of his probable retirement. Colonel Holway of the Third Regiment, Colonel Moore, its former commander; Colonel Fuller, formerly of the staff; and Colonel Gilbert Seaman are among those mentioned.

It is not likely that changes will be made in the other positions, as both Quartermaster General Soliday and Surgeon General Edwards were gold democrats, and as yet have seen no reason for changing their views.

Some Freak Plants.

There is a plantain in Jamaica called the life plant, because it seems almost impossible to kill it. When a leaf is cut off and hung up by a string it sends out white, thread-like roots, gathers up moisture from the air and begins to grow new leaves. In South America is a flower which can only be seen when the wind is blowing. The plant belongs to the cactus family, and when the wind blows a number of beautiful flowers protrude from little lumps on the stalk.—New York World.

"Necessity Knows No Law."

But a law of Nature bows to the necessity of keeping the blood pure so that the entire system shall be strong, healthy and vigorous.

To take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is therefore a law of health and it is a necessity in nearly every household. It never disappoints.

Tired Feeling.—"I had that tired, dull feeling, dyspepsia, headaches and sinking spells, but Hood's Sarsaparilla made me a new man. I never was better than now." JOHN MACK, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Rosy Cheeks.—"I have good health and rosy cheeks, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla. It builds me up and saves doctor's bills." MARY A. BURKE, 604 East Clair Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Welsh Railway Strike Makes Steam Coal a Precious Article.

New York, Aug. 25.—A dispatch to the Herald from London says that because the general manager of the Taff Vale railway refused to meet a representative of a labor union, not a pound of coal is moving at Cardiff, and 30,000 colliers are idle. The strike on this railway, if not speedily terminated, must have a disastrous effect on shipping and seriously embarrass the admiralty at a time when steam coal is a very precious article.

No better time could have been chosen by the labor union leaders to stop this great coal carrier. Welsh steam coal has already touched record prices, and the admiralty only a few days ago was forced to pay an exorbitant price for 250,000 tons.

Usurper Seizes Throne.

Moscow, Aug. 25.—With 5,000 cut-throats armed to the teeth and accoutered for war, Ali Mahomet Bey is reported to be marching to Teheran. He is a fanatic and a rebel, and formerly was a sergeant in the Persian army. It is said to be the intention of those with him to seize the city, which is the capital of its province, Irak Ajemi, and to place Ali Mahomet Bey on the throne, claiming that he is a descendant of King Kerim Khan. The outlaw mob in Teheran is expected to join the usurper. A troop of 500 infantry and 600 Cossacks is being hurried to capture the leaders of the rebels.

Sleeps in Arms of the Dead.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 25.—William B. Cox, chief engineer at the city electric light works, was killed by falling on a live wire in the power house. He was alone except for his 6-year-old daughter. She saw Cox fall, went to him, lay down in his arms and fell asleep. When the child did not come home her brother Vernon, aged 10, was sent after her. He made the discovery of the child asleep in her dead father's arms. The machinery was pounding away unattended, with natural gas under the boilers making steam.

THE SEARCH STOPS

The Right Thing Has Been Found. A Janesville Citizen Shows the Way.

Once more we are indebted to a Janesville citizen for a public statement that throws more light on a subject of ever-increasing interest. People have been deceived by false misrepresentations from time immemorial. No wonder they are skeptical of all claims endorsed by strangers, residing in far distant parts of the Union. It is no longer necessary to accept such endorsements, for local citizens are giving their testimony, and 'tis an easy matter for any reader to investigate the correctness of such evidence as the following:

Mr. H. W. Rodgers, carpenter, of 210 South Main street, says:—"My wife had kidney complaint and rheumatism for five years, suffering a great deal from pain across the loins. Doan's Kidney Pills, sold by the People's Drug Co., brought much longed for and gratifying results. At first there was no visible change and she came to the conclusion that they were like all other remedies she had tried, but finally the aching and the distress in the small of her back disappeared."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

ABOUT MR. MAHONEY.

A good deal has been made of Mr. Mahoney's remark that the Wisconsin democracy was "for Bryan, Bohmrich and blood," but as everyone knows the language was in no way significant. As the expression is commonly used, a man may be "out for blood" and still have no idea of letting any. If a horse race, for instance, is "for blood" it does not necessarily mean that the rival drivers propose to murder each other. Any person who throws his best endeavors into the accomplishment of an object is, so to speak, "out for blood." Undue prominence has been given Mr. Mahoney's remark, and a false significance has been attached thereto. The Janesville lawyer is not a bloodthirsty anarchist. Neither is he a crank or a fanatic. He follows his political god rather too blindly, perhaps, and in dealing in extemporaneous flapping for the purpose of tickling the ears of his fellow Bryanites, he was somewhat unfortunate in getting too many B's together, thus making a false construction possible. This is all there is to it, and no person need feel called upon to dodge when Jeremiah Lycourge Mahoney comes down the street. His hands have never been dyed in blood, and it is safe to say that they never will be. He can handle political "guff" but with a bowie knife he would be "as awkward as a pig."

And then again, perhaps the local golfers will some day return from a trip to another town without a pig patch of glory on their banner. This is a wild guess, however, and is exceedingly improbable.

In conclusion—The comedy has gone far enough. Let "Bryan, Bohmrich and blood" die. "Much Ado About Nothing" is not adapted to a continuous performance.

A magnanimous boss speaks temperately even when it anger. This is the better way. Mercy should temper justice at all times.

If the campaign is to be for blood, we certainly need a better police system. New evidences of this need appear daily.

Moral—Indulge not in the rhetorical flapping unless it is properly labeled so that "he who runs may read."

Two new kinds of democrats have been added to the list—blood democrats, and anti blood democrats.

And it will be noted that Mr. Buckley also delivered his opinion in person, and on the spot.

If any blood is to be let in the coming campaign, however, the Bryanites will certainly lose it.

The Hon. Cornelius Buckley also succeeded in getting out from under.

One of the brethren spelled it "Bum-merick."

One week from today the oyster will be ripe.

VERY NEAR TO TREASON.

Bryan's Message of Hope to the Insurgent Filipinos.

Among the 10,000 words of Mr. Bryan's painfully wrought essay on the theme that "republics can have no subjects" these only are deserving of serious consideration:

If elected, I shall convene congress in extraordinary session as soon as an insurrectionary purpose, first, to establish a stable form of government in the Philippine Islands, just as we are now establishing a stable form of government in the island of Cuba; second, to give independence to the Filipinos, just as we have promised to give independence to the Cubans; third, to protect the Filipinos from outside interference while they work out their destiny, just as we have protected the republics of Central and South America and are, by the Monroe doctrine, pledged to protect Cuba.

This is definite enough as a statement of intentions and a pledge of action in case Mr. Bryan is elected president. He will convene congress in extraordinary session and use all the power that a president can exert to induce congress to withdraw the flag of the United States from the Philippine Islands.

When Mr. Bryan pronounced these words, did it occur to him that he might be giving at that very moment the signal for the death of hundreds or thousands of our soldiers in the Philippines?

The United States government is engaged in stamping out the embers of rebellion in Luzon, and our men there are doing their duty under the flag.

And now the man who will be president of the United States if the Democracy wins this election sends to the insurgents his message of hope and stimulus.

"Keep up your fight," he says to Aguinaldo's Tagals. "Keep on shooting down the men who wear the United States uniform. If I am elected, you will have won."

In the maze of his theoretical argumentation and in the confusion of his rhetorical detail did William J. Bryan really understand how near he was to treason?

Did he foresee the one direct, practical, murderous effect of his promise to the rebels in arms against the United States government and flag?—New York Sun.

It is remarkable how the leaders of the Democratic party, while seated at home or in committee, can give advice as to the conduct of the war and criticize the work of those who go to the front and carry the flag to victory.

Fable of the Viper and the File.

A viper entered the office and, feeling hungry, began foraging for something to eat. At length, seeing a file, he went up to it and commenced gnawing it. "Chew away, old bird," said the religious editor. "You can't digest that file. It will kill any one."

The viper, refusing to take warning, however, kept on his repast until he had completely swallowed the file. He had no sooner done this than he fell back on his hind legs and died.

And no wonder! He had swallowed a file of Bryan's 1896 speeches.—Ell Perkins in New York Sun.

If your Democratic talking politician is hasty tempered, and you wish to avoid warm words, do not ask him "Well, how about the price of wheat and the price of silver?"

Prefers Anything to Bryan.
The Hon. E. Ellery Anderson, the leading representative of the former southern men who make New York their home and represent the large interests of the south, has declared his opposition to the Kansas City ticket. He declares that the Democratic party had far better suffer defeat than assume the responsibility for a Bryan administration.

Our Merchant Marine.
The Republican national platform declares in favor of legislation for the upbuilding of American shipping in the foreign trade. The Democratic national platform opposes such legislation and suggests no remedy for our present maritime decadence.

THINGS TO CONSIDER.

If the silver question is out of politics, why was it hammered into a political platform?

It is not believed that Mr. Bryan's new farm is worked so thoroughly as it is photographed.

The Democratic party never pointed with pride in any business measure that it ever enacted.

Doubtless Chairman Jones will look upon his predictions as the paramount feature of the Democratic campaign.

At the next fusion in Nebraska the Democrats will doubtless be called upon to apologize for presuming to exist.

"Bryan, Adlai, Aguinaldo, Agonello and anti everything" will not be an attractive combination for the American voters.

Bryan insists on being taken on trust by a political combination because he is opposed to business trusts and combinations.

The Republican administration goes to the country upon its accomplishments. Incidentally, it will be materially strengthened at the ballot box by the mistakes of the Democracy.

From the silence of the Democrats on the tariff question it would seem that they have decided to take the views of one of their former candidates and call it a local question.

Bryan sees danger in our national prosperity, and those wishing to do him justice must admit that should his opinions prevail such a source of danger would be speedily removed.

NEW MILLINERY.

Henriette Rousseau Tells Us What the New Fall Hats Are to Be Like.

These are busy times among the big importing houses and manufacturers, and it takes an active person to get around and see the things as fast as they are received. But one may revel in such a profusion of color and beauty of fabric and grace of form in the made up things that one is paid for the fatigue.

Just now the new hats and bonnets and millinery goods in general occupy much of the attention. Along the first days in September the first openings are held, and these are where one sees the first of the new styles, but by the courtesy of some of the importers and large manufacturers I have been favored with a view of all the new things.

There are felt hats for everyday wear, mostly in the shape where the back of the brim is turned up, and the front is straight. This gives a foundation for the most surprising bunches of trimming and fancy made feathers.

THE NEW FALL HATS.

These are for the most part of the inner wing feathers of our commonest fowls, with some of the burnished outer ones, all arranged so they resemble other birds. Some of the brightest of the colored plumes from the necks and tails of the pretty little bantams are employed in making the cashmere and Persian effects in some of the turbans and also the long amazons.

These are made so that they resemble the shape of the most expensive ostrich plumes, and the ends are exceptionally rich and full. They are to be mingled with the new craped silks, which are known as drap de hippur. This has the craped design across the stuff, and when it is made into trimming the material is cut bias, and more pretty fancies are developed with this than I can remember of ever seeing in anything else. It comes in every color and tint in the colors of the season, and these are many, so many that no one could tell of them all. But the most effective of them are the drab, light brown and the white and cream. All of the others are handsome, but these are particularly fine in these shades. Rosettes, flowers and no end of rich folds and twists are made of these goods, and draperies are seen on fully half the millinery all made of this. It seems to be as well adapted for twisting around the crowns of the everyday felts as for the dainty and delicate evening bonnet.

Besides this there is polka dotted velvet and crape; also surah. One specialty in the new millinery is the quantity of felt to be used as trimming. This is cut into strips and braided in with satin straw or in some cases with chenille in a shade or two darker or of contrasting color. This is very rich. The braid thus made is about an inch or a little more in width. It is used to border wide strips of felt cut like ribbon and used as such to trim the hats.

All bows and loops and draperies are very wide. There was a piece of drab felt about ten inches wide, and this was bordered with narrow bands of beaver fur. Others in black have bindings of astrakhan, and other close furs are used. Braided tam crowns with band trimming will be a feature for young ladies. The great mob cap shapes are more exaggerated than ever, even in the old days. The crown pieces are embroidered in gold thread and beaded; also covered with spangles.

The newest trimming ribbon is at least 18 inches wide and has a luster entirely novel. It is obtained by weaving two distinct shades of the same color in it. This is then woven somewhat like surah, but it has the crisp sheen of taffeta, while it is much softer and more pleasing when draped and crushed. One piece in coral pink and garnet was rich, and one blue, where mazarin and cadet or Yale were the shades, was very handsome.

The old cheney ribbons are revived in such quality and degree of art in design as to make one understand how Beecher used to buy pieces just to look at. All the trimming ribbons are unusually wide. Black and white striped ribbon in quite a variety is seen, but not so wide, as they are designed more for trimming dresses than millinery.

Of flowers there are none for millinery purposes whatever and no fruit, but there are some things made of feathers and of silk and crape with chenille, which is, by the way, to be used to a greater extent than ever as combinations in trimming, and these things are supposed to represent flowers, and they are six and eight inches in diameter, and they all have a frosting of some kind along each edge. Brown and blue roses and all sorts of colors to represent overgrown hollyhocks are seen. These will be used mostly as pompons to fill in the front of the hats. There are many English walking hats, and these have a drapery of crape or some one of the velvets, and panne and mirror are among them. HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

ROSE AND MONAGHAN IN JOINT DEBATE

TWO SPELLBINDERS AT ST. MARY'S PICNIC, AUG. 30.

Issues of the Campaign From Both Democratic and Republican Standpoints—Treat in Store For Those Who Attend—Games and Sports on Program.

On the 30th day of August St. Mary's congregation will give a grand barbecue and picnic for the purpose of adding in the erection of the magnificent new edifice which will soon grace the hill where so long has stood the old building.

Those having the undertaking in charge have determined upon some new and very interesting features.

There will be an old style barbecue, at which a whole ox will be barbecued and served together with a full complement of corn in the ear, baked potatoes, etc. Those who know anything about barbecues will commence getting the "juicy jaw" right away.

In addition to this there will be another feature which will serve to be a great drawing card. It is intended to have a grand political debate by a representative of each of the two great parties.

Hon. David S. Rose, the present mayor of Milwaukee, who has a national reputation as a public speaker, and who is one of the most forcible and finished orators in the country, has consented to champion the cause of democracy. He will be present without fail.

To sound the praises and defend the policies of the republican party, there will be present an equally able, eloquent, and well-known platform orator in the person of the Hon. James G. Monaghan of Darlington, the present internal revenue collector of this district. Should it be found impossible to secure the presence of Mr. Monaghan, somebody equally able will be procured.

Two more entertaining and proficient exponents of the platforms of the two great parties could not be secured in the northwest and it is perfectly safe to say that the crowd which will greet them will be the largest of the year.

In addition to the two principal features, the well known auctioneer, W. T. Dooley, will sell at public sale, for the benefit of the fund, a number of odd, useful and curious articles.

The usual games and sports will also have a place on the program and the full Imperial band will give out its choicest music all day.

The first boat will leave the dock at 9 o'clock in the forenoon.

It is expected that fully 5,000 people will be present, and the most ample preparation will be made to give everybody a good time.

USING DYNAMITE TO KILL THE FISH

Parties Operating in an Unlawful Way in Rock River Should be Looked After Sharp.

A number of complaints have been made of late that parties residing along the river north of the city are using dynamite to kill the fish in the river. People camping along the river say it is a nightly occurrence.

The dynamite is placed in the bed of the river and exploded, it not only kills the fish in the immediate vicinity but the concussion blinds a large number that are not in the killing radius of the charge.

There is no way that the fishing in the river can be sooner destroyed and the game warden should make an effort to catch the guilty parties who, if convicted, should be given the limit of the law.

This is not the first time that complaints have been made in regard to this practice as it has been carried on for a number of years by parties who seek an easy means of obtaining fish for the city market.

CRACK WINONA TEAM PLAY GOLF TODAY

PLEASED WITH COURSE AND EXPECT TO WIN.

Lively Game in Progress on the Buckle-ton Links This Afternoon—Albert Schaller Playing in the Finals at the Milwaukee Tournament Against the Crack Walter Eagan.

The crack team of the Winona Golf club arrived in the city this noon from Oshkosh, where they played yesterday. They are a pleasant party of gentlemen, and are spending their vacations traveling around the country playing matches with the different golf clubs. They can get more enjoyment out of this sort of an outing than they could at some fashionable summer resort.

The party was met at the train by a delegation from the local club and escorted to the grounds, where a lunch was served for them in the club house.

Immediately after lunch a preliminary round was played in order that the visitors might become familiar with the course before the match play commenced. They were highly pleased with the course and the scenery and expect to put up a great game. The line-up of the two teams will be as follows:

Winona—W. M. Balcom, Z. H. Marfield, C. P. Craigie, Geo. A. West, H. E. Smith, R. E. Torrance, J. L. Keenan.

Albert Schaller, the representative of the Winona club, succeeded in winning every match so far for the Keeneland cup offered as a consolation cup for those who did not qualify for the Milwaukee cup. Today he plays the finals against Walter Eagan, the Lake Geneva crack.

Schaller is a first class match player, and it is hoped by the home club that he will win out. If he is defeated in this match he will still have the honor of being the runner up against a large field of good players and will win a handsome prize.

Mr. Conrad is well known in this city, he being a nephew of C. B. and W. H. Conrad and a son of the late J. H. Conrad.

Chicago Women "Too In." A Chicago man with nothing better to do has discovered that at least 20 per cent of the women of that city "too in." From observations made in houses, railway cars and on the street he finds that the habit of about one-fifth of the women is to turn their toes in. Sometimes it is both feet, and sometimes but one foot. He does not pretend to account for this ungraceful habit, but it presumably arises from improper or a total lack of physical training. Certain it is there is scarcely anything more distressing than to see the points of a pretty woman's shoes converging toward each other from beneath her dress. No one of an observing nature who once saw her feet in a glass would ever again toe in, as the saying is. It is a habit acquired in childhood, but which might easily be corrected by mothers—if they did not "too in" themselves.

An Ideal Village. The Dalecarlian village of Orsa seems to offer advantages as a place of residence to persons of small incomes. The municipality owns extensive forest lands, and by the judicious sale of some of them the village has a revenue of about $75,000 a year. The inhabitants pay no taxes of any kind. A first-rate education is provided for their children without the cost of a penny.

Question of Fire Protection. Proximity to a fire engine house does not insure one against danger from flames. A woman in Chicago recently moved near a west side engine house and the very next day her gasoline stove blew up and set fire to the house, which burned to the ground.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Aug. 25,
1900.

Saturday, Aug. 25, 1900,

marks our first anniversary in Janesville. One year in the Bower City has enabled us to acquire a business of which we are justly proud.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS

Buying and selling for cash has enabled us to quote attractive prices on a class of goods at all times A No. 1 in quality. The result of our venture conclusively proves that there are advantages to be derived solely through the

...CASH SYSTEM...

And that these advantages are thoroughly appreciated by the larger part of the community. You, perhaps, always pay cash—the majority of the people do—why pay credit prices? Why help pay someone else's account when your own is always large enough? Why pay cash for pass-book prices? Add to the strength of cash, the strength of the best kept and assorted stock, the strength of quality, the strength of the best service, and you will understand why our business is steadily growing.

SHOT TWO CARIBOU.

Half a Herd of Six Were Dropped by This Hunter.

Two caribou at one shot is the kind of a story to which the uninitiated would give the smile audible, and which would be pretty hard for the expert hunter and story-teller to beat. But it is true, nevertheless, and the man who fired the shot and bagged the two caribou is Walter J. Swett, a Maine guide, now in New Bradford on a visit to Michael Shea. "It was a number of years ago," said Mr. Swett, "one morning when I was out still-hunting I found the tracks of some caribou, leading up over a ridge, and after cruising around awhile I caught sight of them. There were six of them standing together under a little clump of trees. I stopped to see which way the wind was, so they wouldn't get scent of me, and then began to creep up on them. I got a good place behind some bushes and sat there waiting for a shot. Just then one of them stretched his neck out a little, giving me a fine chance at him. I let go, and the bullet went straight through his head and into the heart of another right behind him, killing them both. The other four didn't get away, either, for I dropped every one of them before they had got twenty rods from the place where I first saw them. That's a pretty unusual thing, killing two caribou at one shot, although you often hear of a man's getting two deer that way; but I must say that one of the guides I knew told me a story that beat this one. He said he was out one day when he struck a herd of nine caribou standing on the ice. He only intended to shoot one of them—that was all he wanted—so he picked out the best shot and fired. He was pretty sure he had struck it, but the caribou didn't seem to be wounded and walked away until he was hid from view behind a bunch of trees. My friend had a magazine rifle, holding nine cartridges, so he didn't lose any time in firing at the next one. Strange to say, he apparently missed this time, and the caribou walked away just like the first one. Then he tried for the third, and so on up to the ninth and last one. Each time he seemed to miss and each time the caribou disappeared behind the trees. Thinking there was something funny about it he went out to look, and—well, he found the whole nine of them stretched out on the ice dead. He had hit everyone, but they had been able to walk far enough to get out of sight behind those trees before they dropped."—New Bedford Standard.

Fruit and Shade from One Tree. Common and beautiful in the tropics is the mango tree. Of all fruits none is relished more by the natives. It is at the same time a magnificent shade tree.
